SELECTED CONSULTING ACTIVITIES
---------------------------------------

- Consultant – U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) Review of U.S Workplace Sexual Harassment Prevalence and Costs, 2019.
- Consultant, American Psychological Association, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Concerns Office, Washington, DC, 2007. I was asked to serve as a consultant for an Amici Curiae brief prepared by APA regarding a case appearing before the California Supreme Court. The case successfully challenged California laws concerning gay marriage.
- Expert Witness, I was retained by the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as an expert witness in several employment discrimination cases: EEOC v. Featherlite Manufacturing, Inc. (1994-1996), EEOC v. General Electric Co. (1997-1998) and EEOC v. Wyeth d/b/a Fort Dodge Animal Health. (2002-2003). I also served as an expert for the U.S. Department of Justice in the gender-based discrimination case of United States v. Richard Mills, Richard Mills d/b/a Chestnut Properties, and Albert Beland (2001). In addition, I have worked as an expert witness and consultant in many other discrimination cases throughout the United States, from Rhode Island to Hawaii. Most of these cases concerned sexual harassment.
- Consultant, American Psychological Association, Public Policy Office, Washington, DC, 1993. I participated in a team of researchers assembled by the American Psychological Association to prepare a commentary of the 1993 EEOC proposed Guidelines on Harassment Based upon Race, Color, Religion, Gender, National Origin, Age, or Disability. These guidelines make significant progress toward clarifying how many forms of harassment can constitute discrimination.
- Consultant, American Psychological Association, Women’s Program Office, Washington, D.C., 1993. I participated in a team of researchers assembled by the American Psychological Association to aid in the preparation of an Amicus Brief filed by APA in the case of Harris v. Forklift Systems, Inc. This case appeared before the Supreme Court and determined some important issues in sexual harassment litigation.
- Social Science Analyst, U.S. Department of Defence, Defence Mapping Agency (DMA), Equal Opportunity Division, Fairfax, VA, 1991-92. I designed and conducted an agency-wide survey to assess the incidence of sexual harassment in DMA, an agency with over 8,000 employees. I analyzed the data from this survey and then prepared numerous reports on my findings. I gave presentations about the survey findings to numerous divisions of DMA. Finally, I formulated a set of policy recommendations to alleviate sexual harassment problems in DMA.
- Faculty Research Associate, U.S. Department of Defence, Defence Equal Opportunity Management Institute (DEOMI), Cocoa Beach, Florida, 1988. I worked with a team of DoD social scientists in designing a worldwide survey of sexual harassment across all branches of the military and the coast guard. A tech report, presentations, and several publications resulted from this work.
